
Hello!

Posted by denyse_marshall - 2008/09/22 01:23

Hi everyone. I'm new here in Mooresville, nc. I am interested in meeting horse people like me. I had a horse In Alaska, which is where I just came from. But I am horseless down here. Are there any horse shows near here anywhere?:blush:

=====

Re:Hello!

Posted by heather - 2008/09/24 05:56

Hi, Denyse! Welcome to NC and the Mooresville area! Wow -- you moved a long way.

There are lots of horse shows in the area, both schooling and USDF shows.

I try to keep the calendar on this site up-to-date with the schooling shows I know about. These sites are also good for eventing and dressage info, including show dates:

www.ncdcta.org and www.carolinadressage.com

Two very nice schooling show series in the area are:

www.lightenupdressage.com and

www.whynotanamericanark.com

I also really like the bulletin board on NC Horse News www.nchorsenews.com

You can see we have a really active horse community here in NC!

=====

Thanks!

Posted by denyse_marshall - 2008/09/24 11:37

Hey thank you for the info. Maybe I one time I could actually get to a show. If anyone has an extra horse or something perhaps I could ride? I love to trail ride with my friends, that my favorite. I would love to get into showing but, I need a horse for that. But thank you for the welcome!

=====

Re:Thanks!

Posted by heather - 2008/09/26 18:34

This forum on the NC Horse News might be helpful to you in finding a horse to ride:

http://forum.nchorsenews.com/forum.asp?FORUM_ID=28

=====