I love reading DressageDaily for its short news pieces each day. It's a fun way to stay informed of happenings in the dressage world and learn a little bit too.

Today DressageDaily spotlights a website I had never heard of before and that I'm really excited about: The Dressage Radio Show .

It looks like the Dressage Radio Show already has about 20 interviews and podcasts that can be downloaded and they all feature riders and trainers that I'm eager to hear from. Just to name a few:

- Isabel Werth (this interview will occur this week!)
- Catherine Haddad
- Lisa Wilcox
- Gill Merrick
- Mary Wanless
- Marlene Whitaker on freestyles
- Debbie McDonald
- Edward Gal
- and more!

Now I've finally found a podcast I'm interested in downloading!
